Competition: # EDUC 19-67-24

Course Title: EDUC 42D3 SU02 – Principles and Practices 1 (Secondary)

Contract Term: May 7, 2024 – June 19, 2024 (Summer Intersession 2024)

Course Schedule: Monday to Friday – 8:30 am – 12 noon – Class Dates: May 21-24, 27-29, June 3-5

Employee Group: Acadia University Faculty Association

Course Description: EDUC 42D3 is an introduction to teacher education. Pre-service teachers engage in reflective practice to consider their own identity, integrity, and professionalism as they explore the art and science of teaching. Topics include an introduction to curriculum frameworks, integration across subject areas, various forms of lesson planning, instructional methods and models, assessment principles and strategies, and tools for creating safe learning environments.

Qualifications:

The successful applicant should have an M.Ed. or higher in an area relevant to the advertised course. A record of academic expertise in relevant theories related to the formation of teachers' professional identities is required. Current professional experience as a teacher and leader/administrator in schools is required. Relevant knowledge and experience of educational leadership in areas of classroom practice, leadership, administration and curriculum is required. Recent experience designing, teaching, and assessing a teacher education course at a university level is preferred. Successful recent experience working independently and as part of a team is essential. The B.Ed. is a provincially accredited program. Applicants will therefore be expected to teach to the accreditation standards for this course.

Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Applicants should include an up-to-date curriculum vitae, cover letter and evidence of recent successful teaching in schools or universities or other informal educational contexts (e.g., student evaluations); evidence of teaching or professional learning or research related to course content (e.g., course outlines, teaching materials, professional learning events, research outputs, etc.).

To apply for this opportunity, click on the "Apply Now" button and upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and proof of degree/diploma.

Competition closes April 4, 2024 (at midnight)

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals; however, Canadians and permanent residents shall be given priority. First consideration shall be given to internal candidates as defined in Articles 58.11 (b)(i) of the Collective Agreement. The University encourages applications from Indigenous people; African Canadians; African Nova Scotians; persons with disabilities; visible minorities; women; persons of any minority sexuality, gender identity or gender expression; and all intersections of these identities. Acadia embraces the principles of equity, diversity, and inclusion as fundamental in creating an expansive academic environment and champions diverse knowledge systems as pillars of academic excellence.

All applicants shall be required to submit an online self-identification form (Employment Equity Voluntary Self-Identification Form) (Article 3.61(i)). These forms shall be processed by Human Resources. Information provided on these forms shall be held in confidence and may only be used for employment equity purposes as agreed in Article 43.35(b) and 43.35(d)(ii). Self-identification data collected for a given employment competition shall be destroyed after all requirements to preserve documentation for that competition have expired. Only candidates who have submitted a self-identification form can be considered as members of designated groups as described in Article 3.20. The form shall include the option to not self-identify, but candidates must submit the form with their applications.
