Competition: # EDUC 38-96-24

Course Title: Group Counselling: Theory and Practice (EDUC 5623 FA01)

Contract Term: August 15, 2024 – December 31, 2024

Course Schedule: Fall 2024 – TBA –Acadia Campus

Employee Group: Acadia University Faculty Association

Course Description: This course provides a conceptual and experiential introduction to group work theory, models, skills, strategies, and techniques. It affords opportunity for the acquisition and application of self-awareness, knowledge, and competencies related to group counselling and leadership. Students explore group development, process, and dynamics; therapeutic factors; facilitator and member roles; ethical and legal considerations; and cultural and other diversity considerations.

Acadia University's Counselling Program is accredited with the Council on Accreditation of Counsellor Education Programs (CACEP) and meets the requirements for post-graduation national certification with CCPA and provincial registration with NSCCT. As such, all courses in the program have required core competencies that students must attain. Instructors are advised to consult with the Counselling Program Coordinator to identify the specific competencies relevant to the course they teach. A template is provided to instructors so that they may indicate competencies addressed in their course outlines.

Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Qualifications:

The successful applicant must possess at minimum a master's degree in the field (Counselling, Counselling Psychology, Social Work or related work), be registered/certified with a professional counselling body (Registered Counselling Therapist with the Nova Scotia College of Counselling Therapists, Certified Canadian Counsellor with the Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association, Registered Social Worker, or Registered Psychologist with the Nova Scotia Board of Examiners in Psychology preferred), and have extensive and current professional experience in group counselling.

Preference will be given to those applicants who meet one or more of the following criteria: bring diverse perspectives and identities to counsellor education, have engaged in scholarship in a related area, have formal academic training in counsellor supervision and/or possess a counsellor supervision credential (e.g., CCS).

Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.
